Finding Happiness

- While we write a poem
- We understand our feelings later while reading
- Then we fill void that had invaded us
- Because we were following others and media
- So we start to search for truth

Misfortune

- We think with desires and feelings
- Our intuition is locked in a body seeking for sensations
- We end up thinking with the shorter path

Searching for Truth

- The devil then begins to speak to us
- It is the collective consciousness of media and culture
- We can then turn back to God
- Or we want to follow the group that is led by culture
- So we are looking between looking for truth or following others
- We would then like others to follow the truth
- But this is not necessarily the case

First Happiness

- By dint of writing
- We find a happiness
- But it is short
- Someone can then project themselves towards this old happiness
- Others think that the future will bring a new happiness
- Yes the future can bring a new happiness

Scientific Reflection

- A hypothesis can prevent us from moving forward
- But the world is well organized
- A superior hypothesis defeats all other hypotheses and surpasses them. This is a scientific hypothesis.
- For example, it is said that there is too much carbon dioxide
- While there was 1.7% carbon dioxide during the Cretaceous compared to 0.04% carbon dioxide currently
- So science gets well

My whole life was built with an assumption

- It feels like that we are going against ourselves at the beginning while going against the devil's assumptions.
- Yes we were on the devil's side without knowing it
- So am I really doing the good? No
- It is then necessary to find someone to grow with good
- We leave others wanting devil's hypothesis

Devil's Culture

- Devil's culture is pleasures' society
- Where we are living with desire
- We then become as emotional as an animal
- We are ashamed of ourselves
- But movies show us a worse example than ourselves
- So we lock ourselves in desire's world
- Where we reject scientific reflection

Writing

- I start to write slideshows and texts about future
- I am growing with my future
- I am interested about society to know myself
- I write about society and how to have happiness
- I'm starting to distinguish artificial pleasure from psychological happiness
- I blossom with the future world I wish for

The Friend

- Making a friend is about being honest with him and with yourself
- We explain to our friend that we want his good and that we will never go against him in front of others
- We explain to him that we want the good and we explain to him the scientific reflection, the higher hypothesis
- We explain to him that we want a serene future
- And that this goes through truth's research
- We create a friend by telling us our flaws

Becoming free

- At first we are afraid about becoming free
- We think we won't find new landmarks
- So we're looking for truth
- So we find small unsatisfactory landmarks
- We can find a group that wants the truth
- So you have to be scientific with them and with yourself
- Or we find a group that is looking for a truth
- Then they don't accept a higher hypothesis because they are emotional

Becoming free

- We are building a little our new landmarks
- We can see that it makes us happy
- We are undoing our devil's culture little by little
- We are setting a frontier to this devil's culture
- We realize that we are becoming happy
- So happiness tells us to set stricter frontier with devil's culture
- His friend allows to not stay alone

Promoting oneself

- By dint of writing we want us to get known
- But media can go against us
- So we explain the truth and look for it
- Each new truth gets known
- We realize that others had this truth
- They give us other happiness
- But they can be attached to desire
- So we explain that happiness consists in mastering desires

Mastering Desires

- Writing a poem allows you to understand your desire later
- Thinking scientifically out loud with your friend allows you to rise
- Then we realize that our reflection is too much ahead
- So we don't hesitate to look for truth in front of our friend
- Then in front of the others
- We are proud of ourselves and happy to be in the truth

To Get Reason

- Being sensible is not decreed
- It's not a diploma that makes you right
- We are right because we have the superior hypotheses that surpass all the other hypotheses
- So someone can come up with another hypothesis
- We define with him and we check if his hypothesis exceeds ours
- We check if it's true at home
- Then we tell his friend about it

Getting out of Desire's world

- We like to watch movies
- But lot of films emphasize individuality
- While society makes the individual
- We are then looking for more realistic old social films
- Then we find a group that makes interesting videos
- So we change the movies by videos that make us happy
- We are happy to see the new band's videos
- We are looking for other groups

Getting out of Devil's Culture

- During writing
- We've grown little by little
- We found groups that were looking for the truth
- But the truth is scary for them
- Some groups repress certain truths
- We cannot go against a superior hypothesis
- So we are looking for the group or the friend who is in the truth

Happiness

- We reflect with upper hypothesis defining
- We rise because of truth's research
- We are looking for a truth then his truth, then the truth
- Happiness is found by those who seek the truth
- Our desires are directed by our truth's research
- Our sensations are studied for a better lifestyle

Getting out of Devil's Culture

- One day we find a group that wants the truth
- He is against hard drugs, against the desire's culture
- This group finds its happiness with growth's culture
- Because our world is well made
- So we are acting for future happiness

Conclusion

- It is about thinking scientifically, that is to say defining, confronting ideas by the higher hypothesis
- We then find better and we don't understand that others don't see that
- So we find a group that is interested in past and future progress
- So we find new truths
- Then we bring happiness to the world through scary truth
- So we become a happiness' diplomat through the truth
